- How to enter data on ORCID?
What is ORCID?

• ORCID is a non-profit organization supported by organisational members
• ORCID is a global non-profit registry
• ORCID identifies registered researchers through a unique identifier - ORCID ID (Open Researcher and Contributor ID).
What is the ORCID ID

• A unique and permanent identifier
  • Identifies an author
  • It is unique – can only be attached to one person
  • Permanent – will follow the owner even if they change universities
  • Consists of 16 numbers

• Number is stored in a central registry

• Brings together information located in various systems

• Links research outputs to identifier
Why use ORCID?

• Many people share the same surname - ORCID ensures the right person can be identified
• Enables to share information about you and your research
• Increases visibility of your work
• Compatible with other system enabling to import and export information and automatically connect your id with publication and academic activities on other systems
• Generates your unique list of academic works
Why use ORCID?

• Free registration
• Easy to set up
• Not linked to a specific institution
• ORCID supports 37 types of work
• You control who can see the ORCID information through privacy settings
• Brings together major research tools and services
• Largest publishers and journals are adopting ORCID
• Funding agencies integrate their systems with ORCID
ORCID as part of a researcher profile management strategy

To ensure your research is accessible and easily comes up in internet searches

Online tools:

• Identification tools such as ORCID
• Search engines: Google Scholar
• Social media: Twitter, LinkedIn, blogs, Facebook
• Online research communities: Academia.edu, ResearchGate
• Bibliographic reference management allowing reference sharing: Mendeley
ORCID vision and mission

Vision

• ORCID’s vision is a world where all who participate in research, scholarship, and innovation are uniquely identified and connected to their contributions across disciplines, borders, and time.

Mission

• ORCID provides an identifier for individuals to use with their name as they engage in research, scholarship, and innovation activities. We provide open tools that enable transparent and trustworthy connections between researchers, their contributions, and affiliations. We provide this service to help people find information and to simplify reporting and analysis.

ORCID values

• ORCID is a not-for-profit organization, sustained by fees from our member organizations. Our work is open, transparent, and non-proprietary. We are guided by the principles of privacy and researcher control, and the vision of identifier-enabled research information infrastructure. We make decisions collaboratively, involving our staff, Board, those who support our mission, and the researchers and community that are the purpose of our work.

• We take a global view. We have a diverse team, deployed internationally in our "virtual office." We engage with a wide range of organizations and people to ensure broad viewpoints. We strive to be a trusted component of research infrastructure with the goal of providing clarity in the breadth of research contributions and the people who make them.

DISTINGUISH YOURSELF IN THREE EASY STEPS

ORCID provides a persistent digital identifier that distinguishes you from every other researcher and, through integration in key research workflows such as manuscript and grant submission, supports automated linkages between you and your professional activities ensuring that your work is recognized. Find out more.

1. REGISTER
   Get your unique ORCID identifier Register now!
   Registration takes 30 seconds.

2. ADD YOUR INFO
   Enhance your ORCID record with your professional information and link to your other identifiers (such as Scopus or ResearcherID or LinkedIn).

3. USE YOUR ORCID ID
   Include your ORCID identifier on your Webpage, when you submit publications, apply for grants, and in any research workflow to ensure you get credit for your work.

4. From the ‘Export’ button, select ‘BibTeX’
5. Save your exported pubs to your selected folder

Note:
Depending on your operating system you may be prompted to:
‘Save’ – this saves to the default directory, Downloads, on your PC
‘Save as’ – you can choose the directory destination for your file

In some systems the file will, by default, automatically download. In this case the downloaded file (with extension .bib) can be found in the Downloads directory on your PC
6. Go to your ORCID account and from the ‘Add works’ button, select ‘Import from BibTex’ and ‘Choose file’
7. Choose file you want to import (extension .bib) and select ‘open’
8. Select ‘save all’ and your imported publications will be listed in your ORCID account

Using ORCID

Include your ORCID id as much as possible
• In your e-mail signature
• On your website (s)
• In publication submissions
• In grant applications

Do this by adding your ORCID number and a link to it

On a paper document you can create a QR code that can be read via a phone with a QR code reader app. This will link the reader to your ORCID webpage
